THE WEST END ASSOCIATION

On February 1st, 1918, the Association completed the thirty-fourth year of its existence, having been organized, as the Citizens' West Side Improvement Association, on February 1st, 1884. Its first meeting was held at the office of Mr. Andrew Powell, at the corner of Ninth Avenue and West Seventy-second Street, Mr. Powell being then elected First Vice-President. The charter members numbered about a score; its work was distributed among three standing committees: Local Improvement, Sanitary Condition and Grievances; and the territory to be covered was that portion of the city lying between Eighth Avenue and the Hudson River, Fifty-ninth and One Hundred and Tenth Streets. Its membership increased steadily, and three standing committees—on Membership, on Finance, and a General Committee—were added before it incorporated, in February, 1889, as the West End Association, the question of a change of name having been under consideration at different times since 1885. Its work is distributed among standing and special committees, and the territory in which it operates has been extended (since 1893) to Manhattan Street. Its meetings are held at the Hotel Ansonia, Broadway and Seventy-third Street, monthly.

It is impossible, here, to even indicate the great changes which these thirty-four years have wrought in the West End—now these many years, an "End" no longer. In names alone there have been many: Eighth, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh Avenues have become Central Park West, Columbus, Amsterdam and West End Avenues; the Boulevard—Broadway; Riverside Drive and Park have been created; and the Subway has been in operation for over thirteen years. Badly paved, if at all; poorly lighted, if lighted at all, the West End of 1884 was very much of a suburban community.

Bearing strictly in mind the provision of its constitution that "this Corporation shall not be in any sense a political organization," the Association has, from the beginning, interested itself in, and taken action upon, almost every question, great or small, related to the material interests of the West Side.

The condition of the streets; the enforcement of the ordinances regulating traffic; the providing of adequate facilities for rapid transit; the establishment and maintenance of good public schools in buildings architecturally suited to their surroundings; proper postal facilities; the securing of better equipment and service by the elevated, surface and underground railroads; the improvement of public parks and squares; all have been the subject of constant effort on the part of the Association. Needed improvements have been secured through correspondence, the attendance of its committees before the city authorities, or at Albany before the Legislature, and much individual work by members at all times.

A list of the matters connected with West Side improvement in which the Association has borne its part would include every matter of importance to the district that has been dealt with during its generation. Among them may be specified:

THE BOULEVARD. This thoroughfare received a large share of attention from the formation of the Association in 1884 until it became Broadway in 1899, appropriations being made at various times, in the early days, for the cleaning of cross-walks, etc. We shared in the work that resulted in securing the laying out and maintenance of the present parkways, a long continued effort to preserve the trees, the removal of which was rendered necessary by the construction of the Subway, being unsuccessful.

RIVERSIDE PARK. Since 1888, when the Association began work in connection with this great pleasure ground, it has done everything in its power to aid in the maintenance of the Park for park purposes, and to prevent its misuse—a matter of no small difficulty. It was active in procuring the enactment of the laws under which the park was created, and in securing the appropriations necessary to carry them into effect. In 1894, it procured the adoption of plans for the extension of Riverside Park, about 1,200 feet into the Hudson River in order to preserve the water front in perpetuity for park purposes and to avoid commercialization. It then procured the passage of Chapter 152 of the Laws of 1894, by which this extension of the Park was established. In March, 1913, a bill introduced into the Legislature for the purpose of abrogating the Park Extension Act was defeated by the action of the Association. In 1911 a so-called "enabling" act was passed authorizing an agreement between the municipal authorities and the New York Central Railroad with respect to railroad facilities. In March, 1913, a plan was proposed under this act by the municipal authorities and the railroad, providing for twenty-six railroad tracks in the southerly end of Riverside Park and a lesser number along its three miles of waterfront. This plan was defeated and withdrawn as the result of the action of the Association. In April, 1916, a new plan was proposed, providing for a railroad yard east of the present railroad, and with tracks running the entire length of the Park. This plan involved the excavation and devastation of a large area of the Park, and provided for a period of six years for the completion of the railroad construction, during which time additional tracks were to be laid in that portion of the Park, west of the present tracks. When complete, a roof over the new tracks would constitute the Park. As the result of action taken by the Association, including a largely attended mass meeting, widespread opposition was aroused against these plans, which results in the enactment of Chapter 719 of the Laws of 1917, which provided that no plan should become operative without the approval of the Public Service Commission for the First District, and that if such plan was not adopted on or before December 1, 1917, said Public Service Commission should prepare a plan which the Railroad Company was required to carry out. No plan was adopted by December 1, 1917, and said Public Service Commission is now free to act under the law above mentioned. A bill (Senate 278) was introduced into the Legislature of 1918 placing this entire railroad situation in charge of a new commission and repealing the Acts of 1911 and 1917 above referred to, but the bill failed of enactment. The success thus attained by the Association has been largely due to the untiring efforts of our Law Committee.

AMSTERDAM AVENUE TROLLEY SITUATION. The history of this matter, which finally resulted in the prevention of the establishment of four tracks for cars operated by the underground trolley, and the subsequent removal of the two exterior tracks from Seventy-second Street to Manhattan Street, thereby abating a great public nuisance and danger, is familiar to all on the West Side.

ACID FUMES NUISANCE. While the matter of the nuisance caused by the Acid Fumes coming from the factories on the New Jersey shore of the Hudson River has been the subject of our investigation for some time, a special committee was appointed in October, 1914, to deal with the subject, and has actively continued its efforts since that time. After collecting evidence of the nuisance at all hours of the day and night, it procured in 1916 legislation providing an effective remedy by revoking the right of the offender to longer do business in the State of New York. This legislation was vetoed by the Governor on technical grounds. In 1917, however, the bill was amended and enacted into law as Chapter 292 of the Laws of 1917. The Committee then presented the matter to the State Board of Health, following which, upon the petition of the Association, the City of New York intervened as party and co-plaintiff. On April 20, 1918, the hearings began before the State Board of Health, sitting in the City of New York. It is hoped that the efforts of the Committee will finally result in the abatement of this nuisance, affecting, as it does, the health and comfort of thousands of people living in our section of the City, and diminishing the taxable values of properties to the extent of millions of dollars. Too much praise cannot be given to the self-sacrificing work of the Committee.

The Association gives liberally through its members, not only money, but time, in the promotion of the interests of that part of the city in which we live, and of which we are so justly proud.

Through all the years it has stood for the betterment of our neighborhood. It has kept itself out of politics; it has been for the reduction of taxes; the proper housing of its citizens, and the enforcement of sanitary conditions.

It may be added that the Association has no paid officers, all of its work being done voluntarily.

And these interests are by no means limited by the past; present conditions indicate that for a long time to come, our efforts will be needed, and our vigilance required, and that we should have the support and co-operation of every one of our residents.

PROPERTY OWNERS AND RESIDENTS SHOULD JOIN THE ASSOCIATION

The Association seeks, and feels that it deserves, the active support of all residents and property owners within its district. The beneficial results of its work are not limited to the interests of its members; it freely contributes its time, money and labor to promoting the interests of the West End, and should have on its roll the name of every resident and property owner of that section who is interested in its welfare.
